

Aqualu Fender Installation Information

Installation:

You will not need to re-use any parts from your old fenders. Your new fenders will have a series of holes on the top side which will attach to the bottom of your hood side panels (#4031) also there are two holes on the back edge that will attach to your cowl section. All our aluminum fenders come with an inner skirt as well. I have attached a picture of the fenders, as you can see the series of small holes used for mounting.

The original steel fenders have a bracket that goes from the fender into the frame. We do not include this piece as we do not feel it is necessary when running our aluminum fenders. Some customers are running a piece of aluminum flat bar from the inner fender skirt into the frame.
